

Quantum Navigation Orientation

Engaging the Inner Quantum Navigator for Personal and Universal Transformation

☀️ A Two Day Orientation Workshop with Ronald Holt ☀️

Zoom - July 9th & 10th, 2022

Zoom Workshop Phoenix, Arizona 10am – 4pm

This two day orientation workshop is a preview into the synthesis of Ron's 30+ years of research and his development of methods to experience, interact with, and navigate within quantum consciousness in ways that assist personal and spiritual transformation at deep fundamental levels. These deep fundamental levels facilitate transformations at the personal, galactic, universal and quantum levels of consciousness.

Summary: Within us lies a vast and layered landscape that is built from our experiences, challenges, and belief systems that we have carefully constructed as physical beings. The landscape contains many objects that protect the dream of physicality so that we do not awaken. This landscape is like a map that we can use to lead us back "home" within ourselves - almost like a video game complete with archetypal characters, dragon slayings, death and rebirth, and ultimate victory over illusion. But very few of us actually go inward to engage this landscape, learn about it, and use it to heal ourselves and affect the physical reality - mostly because we don't know this inner map exists or how to work with it. Once we know how to navigate the map, we can follow it into the quantum, into the heart, and back Home again. The workshop will consist of some lectures and time spent in meditation and experiential work. With Ron's guidance, participants will begin to learn the contours of their inner landscape and what their unique inner map looks like so they can go within - to slay their own dragons, heal their hearts, release what no longer serves, awaken from the dream, receive the deep universal love, and pave a solid path back Home again.

What is Our Inner Quantum Navigator?

Our Inner Quantum Navigator is the all-seeing, integrated aspect of ourselves that knows how to navigate the inner landscape of our consciousness to bring about profound transformation. The Quantum Navigator is the most effective assistant to re-interpret, heal, and integrate our repeating issues. The Quantum Navigator inspires profound insights, which allows peaceful understanding and compassion to arise within us as we face the darkest and deepest wounds within ourselves. Accessing our Quantum Navigator is like having the most effective guide and friend in a unfamiliar environment. Our inner Quantum Navigator inspires holistic solutions and revolutionary understandings as we face our repeating challenges and deepest wounds.

Entering and navigating our own emotional and psychological terrain with the Quantum Navigator at our side, familiarizes us with this critically important landscape and revolutionizes our integration process. Like a patient big-hearted wise mother, the Quantum Navigator's powerful embrace brings about holistic transformation that moves us from a disintegrated state into our natural, sacred state of beingness.

What is Quantum Consciousness?

The quantum consciousness energy is a supreme state of integration that is the greatest detangler of emotional and psychological knots. It is the source of our energetic rejuvenation and healing. Thus, our Quantum Navigator assist us greatly by guiding and educating us through the most difficult landscape there is – our own emotional and psychological belief systems that seem to impede our growth while contracting us into repeating dramas that continually cycle us through painful and fearful states – like being in a blender without any way to stop, get out or surrender. The Quantum Navigator leads us to our natural state of quantum consciousness from which all blockages and challenges can be integrated and healed.

The Workshop

This two-day workshop will consist of a series of informational lectures, followed by experiential exercises and guided/channeled meditations. We will cover the basics needed to begin to connect and work with the inner Quantum Navigator. Then, upon establishing this connection with the Quantum Navigator, we can begin to work with our own inner landscape and the challenges that leave us in fearful, painful or contracted states. You will receive simple tools to begin doing this inner work on your own.

In this orientation workshop, students will experience innovative lectures, experiential exercises and guided meditations on:

- The Quantum Level of Consciousness
- The Quantum Navigator- how to access and communicate with it
- Paradox and Duality and their role in our consciousness
- Universal & Separation Consciousness
- The Heart's version of Expansion & Contracted Consciousness
- Integrating and transforming painful, fearful or limiting traumas and belief systems
